

PUBLIC LEADER

MAYSVILLE, KY., TUESDAY, JANUARY 11, 1898.

ONE CENT.

SEVENTH YEAR.

LARGEST IN THE CITY.

Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "cuties" free any more than a merchant can take out his counter from a pile of dry goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade, and advertisements should be paid for, no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

He criticized her pudding, and he didn't like the cake; he wished she had made the "blondie" his mother used to make; she didn't wash the dishes and she didn't make a stew, and she didn't wash his stockings as his mother used to do. Oh, well, she wasn't perfect, but she tried to do her best, until at length she thought the time had come for her to have a rest so one day when he grumbled and whined the whole day through, she turned him up and "fanned" his pants—as his mother used to do.

One thing that attracts many people to Cincinnati to buy goods is the bargains that Cincinnati merchants advertise in the Cincinnati papers. Maybe Mayville merchants might keep some of this trade in Mayville if they would advertise bargains in the Mayville papers. Suppose you try THE LEADER.

The river is rising its entire length, with 38 feet on the marks at this point. The tributaries above are pouring out immense volumes of water, which will make almost a 40-foot stage at Mayville.

Buck & Ehrhardt's wrecking boat, which went up to work on the Sherley, passed down Sunday night, towed by the City. The boat left the Sherley Sunday and drifted to Vanceburg, where it took shelter from the ice. All the loose material was taken off the wreck, which had been badly cut by the ice when the wreck left. The wreck is in the middle of the stream, where it is struck by every floating object, and the wreckers think the present rise will finish the boat, the water being in her teeth when they left.

The stage of the Ohio river at Davis last evening was considerably over 10 feet, enough for coalboats. The Raymond Horner took out the largest tow, and he had 8 boats and 6 barges, and added 6 more pieces at Bellair.
